Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mewhitters were the honored guests when a large group of friends held a no-host party Saturday evening in the lovely garden of Gover Oaks, home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gover on St. Francis Way in San Carlos.

The Mewhitters, who reside on Highland Ave., have lived in San Carlos for many years. Both have been active in civic affairs. They have purchased a home in Jackson, Amador County and plan on moving next week. They have one daughter, Sharon, who graduated from Sequoia High School this month and who will accompany them to Jackson and a son, Troval, who lives in San Francisco.

A chaise longue was presented to the honored guests by group of nearly 100 friends who gathered to wish them good luck in their new home.

A buffet supper was served under the oaks from a table that was centered by a table that was arranged, one side of which was a white "city" gate labeled "good-bye San Carlos," the other side a country gate to which was attached "Hello Jackson" and in between was a miniature automobile depicting the Mewhitters.

Boy Scout News

Two hundred and four boys are attending the San Mateo County Boy Scout Training Camp at Pescadero. The session opened last week.

Troop 153 of San Carlos is in Company A, of which Sandy Kahn is commander. Troop 103 of East Palo Alto and Troops 104, 122 and 127 of Redwood City are in Company B, of which James Bernard is commander. Troops 105 of Redwood City, Troop 154 of San Carlos and Troop 159 of Woodside are in Company C, commanded by Bill Godfrey. Troop 107 of Menlo Park and Troop 161 of Belmont are in Company D, commanded by Phil Noble.

The traditional Knights of Dumas Day was held Saturday. Last Wednesday 26 tenderfoot scouts hiked to Camp Pomponio to complete their second class requirements. A hike for the second class scouts who wanted to become first class scouts was held later in the week.

Chet Wilson, associate camp director, announced that he was going to take a camping expedition of 18 first class scouts with swimming merit badges to Camp Kit Carson in the High Sierra.

They will leave July 8 and return July 22. Cost is $25. The camp mailing address is San Mateo County Boy Scout Camp, Pescadero.

At the last spring meeting of Pack 10, Redwood City, Cubmaster William P. Rulhauser awarded the following achievements: Webelos badge, Frank Bastasi; and Richard Engel; lion badge, James Paulk; bear badge with gold and silver arrows, Leonard Preader; gold and silver arrows for bear, Raymond Rolden and Don Smiley.

Wolf badge, Larry Borton; wolf badge, one gold and two silver arrows, Donald Soto; gold and silver arrows for wolf, Eddie Rodriguez; wolf badge, Ernest Hanni. Three silver arrows and an assistant denner stripe went to John Olsen, a silver arrow went to John Garcia who also received a 2-year service star.

PACK 16 AWARDS

Cubmaster Vernon Ballard awarded the following achievements at the last pack meeting: Larry Turner and Ronald Alexander, wolf badges; Joseph Demma, bear badge; David Ballard, lion badge.

Brian Named City Engineer In Belmont

Lawrence Brian, engineer of the Belmont Water Dist. last night was named as city engineer of Belmont, replacing Robert Klassen who resigned this week.

The Belmont City Council last night accepted Klassen's resignation and then appointed Brian to the post.

Brian is associated with the engineering firm of Frost & Brian in Redwood City. He has been water district engineer for the past year and a half, and formerly served as assistant city engineer in both San Carlos and Belmont under Klassen. He is a graduate of Stanford University and has been active in engineering for the past 17 years.

In a letter to the city council, Klassen stated that he would complete three engineering projects in Belmont now underway, including the joint sewage disposal plant to be built by San Carlos and Belmont, and the drawing up of setback lines for the widening of Ralston Ave.

Last night the council also: Voted to go ahead with a sewer project in the area west of Cipriani Ave. after only one protest against the project was recorded. Decided not to call for bids on the sewers for several months, however.

Granted Councilman Edward Levesque a one month leave of absence from the council and permission to leave the state.

Hubbard Promoted To Police Lieutenant

Leroy A. Hubbard of the Atherton police force yesterday was promoted to lieutenant. He has been on the Atherton force for 19 years.

Hubbard is acting chief of police until Chief Robert Farrell returns from vacation, July 15.

Use Plane To Fight Mosquitoes

The mosquitoes which had threatened to invade the southern end of San Mateo County Monday received a final dusting off.

Richard Thomas, superintendent of the Pulgas Mosquito Abatement Dist., said that a plane piloted by John Allen sprayed the salt marshes east of Belmont, the scene of the mosquito infestation.

Thomas Saturday was authorized by the district's trustees to employ extraordinary abatement measures. He had reported that millions of mosquitoes were due to hatch this week, because of the flooding of some 800 acres of land.

The plane, owned by Roy Patton, operator of the San Carlos Airport, was hired by the district in an effort to choke off the expected infestation.

It sprayed a liquid solution over the marshes all day Sunday, Thomas said.

A check of the results was made Monday to determine how effective the spray was. Thomas found that more than 95 per cent of the bugs had been killed.

Today's spraying was expected to exterminate whatever mosquitoes escaped Sunday's attack. Allen is a flight instructor at the airport and a veteran of 22 years as a pilot. During the war he served as chief of the navy pilot training program at Susanville.

Thomas said that the marshes ordinarily flood during the late winter months. Cold weather then slows the hatching of the eggs to from 30 to 45 days. The mosquitoes lay the eggs on dry ground, and they must have water before they hatch.

The salt marshes were flooded about 10 days ago, Thomas said. During the warm summer weather, the eggs hatch in 8 to 10 days.

Klassen to Resign From Belmont Post

Robert Klassen Tuesday announced that he planned to resign as city engineer of Belmont effective at once.

Klassen said that he also planned to resign as city engineer of San Carlos and Daly City at a later date, when present city engineering jobs now underway are completed.

He said that he was leaving the city jobs in order that he could have a rest and that he had informed the city councils of his intentions as long as a year ago.

Klassen has been city engineer of Belmont since 1940 and has been connected with engineering jobs within the city since its incorporation. He said he hoped to be able to resign from the other two posts before the end of the year.

He declared that he would complete several jobs in Belmont still under way, including a sewer project in the Monserrat Ave. area.

Sewer Additions Due in Belmont

A public hearing on sewer installations in the Monserrat Ave. section of the Belle Mont subdivision will be held tonight at a special meeting of the Belmont City Council.

According to City Clerk Catherine Heatsner, the council will also consider the resignation of City Engineer Robert Klassen, who announced his intention to resign from the city post yesterday.

Movies to Film This Year's Rodeo Events

Two moving picture newsreels will be present when the Redwood City rodeo celebration gets under way Friday evening. Universal and Pathe both plan to film the events during the four-day activities here.

Meanwhile, first signs of rodeo life were evident at the grounds on Lower Broadway today as many of the animals to be used for the rodeo events were brought into town.

Contestants for the roping, riding and bronco events were also being lined up with indications that more than 300 will be competing for the $4000 in prizes during the three afternoon performances.

Dude Martin's orchestra will play Friday night at the opening of the celebration which will get started officially at 6 o'clock. Other entertainers will include Bud Hobbs, Joe Triano and the Bean Sisters.

More than 20 concessions will be in operation also, according to Program Dir. Leroy Jordan. The booths, being handled by member organizations of the Peninsula Celebrations Assn., will include food items, games of chance and skill, Jordan explained.

First parade is scheduled for noon, Saturday, with the first rodeo beginning immediately after the parade is completed.

The feature parade will be run off at noon on Sunday, and Parade Chmn. Floyd D. Granger urged local organizations to beat the deadline and enter today. (Entry blank on page 2.)

The USS Hollister, one of the latest navy destroyers, will dock at the Port of Redwood City on Friday and will be here with its crew of nearly 200 for the duration of the rodeo.

Last call was also issued today ants of all ages were invited to for the amateur program to be participate for prizes. (Entry held Sunday at 7 p.m. Contest—blank page 2.)

San Mateo Gets New Mayor

By a bare majority vote of three to two the San Mateo City Council this week elected Councilman Creed Haberlin mayor—eliminating several months of efforts to "rotate" the honorary position.

As a result, Mayor Edward J. Rielly will become councilman. Rielly when the new mayor officially takes over at next Monday night's council meeting.

Councilman Daniel Creedon was elected vice mayor, after Councilman Carroll Speers declined the office on grounds of pressure of business and lack of time.

Haberlin was nominated by Creedon, who has backed the "rotation" plan consistently, and seconded by Roy A. Wehe.

Lodi Warns On Fire Permits

Fire Chief Joe Lodi today warned Redwood City residents, especially those in recently annexed sections, that no burning is allowed in the city without a permit from the fire department.

He pointed out that the department never permits rubbish burning in the afternoon during the summer months and that quite a bit of such burning had been noticed.

He also said that the dumping of rubbish in vacant lots, which is contrary to city ordinance, was very prevalent this year and should be discouraged.

How trouble shooters take wing to guard your power supply

They take the sky-way... these modern power-patrolmen. Helicopters enable our high-line trouble shooters to find line breaks or make routine checks of transmission facilities much more efficiently than on foot or skis. For the versatile helicopter can hover near a tower for detailed inspection of insulators and equipment... land in normally inaccessible areas... or dart at 80 miles an hour along the line to spot possible breaks caused by storms or falling trees.

There are 9,000 miles of transmission lines in P.G. and E.'s network to keep helicopters busy. And they have a still bigger job ahead as we expand the system to serve Northern and Central California's growing needs.

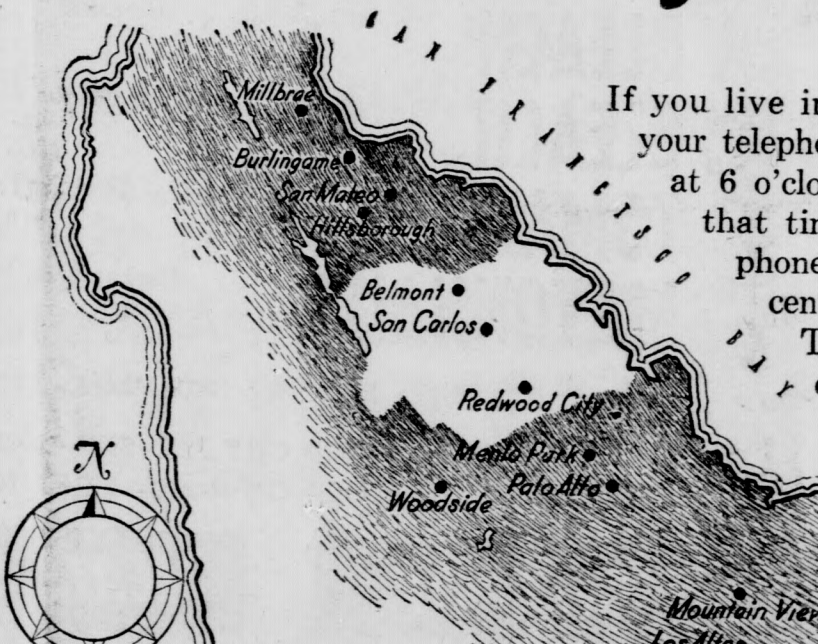

From more than a hundred reservoirs and lakes and 74 generating plants comes the electricity to supply this vast network. More plants are on the way, joining P.G. and E.'s post-war power-parade costing over $400,000,000.

FOR THE RECORD
P.G. & E. ALREADY HAS A GENERATING CAPACITY 176% THAT OF HOOPER DAM

Look up all Peninsula telephone numbers in the new directory before you call

If you live in the area shaded on the map, your telephone number will probably change at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, July 4. At that time about 50,000 Peninsula telephones will be given new numbers with central office names.

This number change completes another important part of Pacific Telephone's construction and expansion program... to bring ever-better service to more and more people. It extends customer dialing of calls from nearby points and operator dialing from other cities.

Here's how you can help speed service during the July 4 change-over...

1. Look up every number in your new July 4 directory... before you call. That way you will get the right number first. Also read the introductory pages for changes in placing extended area calls.

2. Destroy your old telephone directory. Most numbers in it will be wrong on and after Sunday morning, July 4. If you dial an old telephone number, your call will be delayed or not completed.

3. Correct your personal telephone lists... jot down any new numbers that you think you'll be using frequently. An up-to-date number list will save you time... and wrong numbers!

Remember... most Peninsula numbers change Sunday, July 4... Thank you!

Atherton Building Shows Big Increase

Construction valued at $1,370,000 has been undertaken in Atherton during the first six months of 1948, according to W. Howard Boren of the building permit office.

If building continues at the same rate construction will be two times that of last year, Boren said. Permits totaled $1,500,000 in 1947. Construction in 1943 was valued at $29,835.

Two Years Probation Granted In Bad Check Hearing Here

Frank M. Parrott, 45, of 2173 El Camino Real, San Mateo, was placed on two years' probation in superior court, Redwood City, Tuesday afternoon after pleading guilty to passing bad checks.

A forgery charge against him was dismissed by Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton.

Probation was granted with the provision that Parrott make restitution of check and note debts, totalling approximately $335.

two months in the county jail and put him on one year's probation.

Riguero had pleaded guilty to the rape of a 24-year-old woman. In Superior Judge Edmund Scott's court, attack with a deadly weapon charges were dismissed against Mrs. Sarah Fuller, 25 Linden St., Redwood City.

And Arthur Weaver, 31, who had been sentenced last November to 10 months in the county jail for burglary, was placed on three years' probation by Judge Scott.

SC City Council Rejects Annex Bid

Annexation of the San Carlos Hills area, requested by Councilman William Klose, was denied last night by the San Carlos City Council by a 3-1 vote, Klose not voting.

About 14 San Carlos residents, represented by Atty. Henry Schaldach, protested the annexation on the grounds of high cost of improvements and small right-of-way of the area to the city.

Councilman John Kemp opposed the annexation because he said it would result in difficulties over fire and police protection. Mayor Edward Burton voted in favor of the annexation.

The council last night appointed Harry Grant, San Carlos public accountant, as city treasurer. Grant will replace Herbert Elvander who resigned two weeks ago.

The position of city treasurer is a part-time job and pays a salary of $125 a month.

Last night the council also approved proposed setbacks for the first block of Greenwood Ave.

Voted to hire an auxiliary fireman to relieve vacationing firemen during the summer.

Named the San Carlos Enquirer as the legal paper of San Carlos for the coming year.

Granted Councilman Kemp a one-month leave of absence from the council.

GARDEN: Experiments Show Atoms Help Soil

BY ROLLY LANGLEY.

A professor at the University of Florida has gained the interest of the Atomic Research Commission for some preliminary experiments which hint that atomic energy and radioactivity may increase the fertility of soils. He got the cue from Hiroshima, for the soil around that city has become far more fertile since the atom bomb was dropped on it.

Apparently the atomic blast released plant foods which are always present in soils, but may be locked up in chemical compound form so as to be unavailable to plant roots. This leads the prof to the conclusion that vast amounts of plant food so locked up may be loosed for growing plants some day. He's working on it.

The professor's theory led to putting half sticks of dynamite, 12, I think under a golf green where the grass was petering out. Holes were dug by an auger so that the hole in each case was just 3/4 inch thick. The fuses were fixed so that all 12 sticks were set off electrically at the same time.

The dynamite was three feet down, so that the surface was not broken by the blast. It shook the holy begorra out of it, however, enough to loosen the soil, make it more permeable for moisture, and loosen up the roots, long matted. Now the golf green is getting green again.

You've no doubt driven along the highway in Summer and seen watermelon trucks parked, with halves of melons on display, so vividly red you just know it can't be natural. Well, you're right. The trucksters paint them with vegetable coloring. Actually, when melons get that ripe, they're past their prime.

But it's possible to make the melon flesh another color. You make a small hole in the stem, while the melon is still growing, put a container with the vegetable coloring you like near, and run a wick over to the hole in the stem. The melon draws on the wick, and you get the coloring all through the melon.

I prefer the natural color, personally. An off color would look as silly as the ladies who wear purple hair... dye, of course. You haven't time to plant any more winter squash, or melons, but if you have a plot where you don't have to start replanting until after Sept. 1, you still have time for a final run of summer squash—yellow crookneck, white straightneck prolife, scallops or zucchini.

Just as earlier, dig a hole two feet in diameter, and a foot deep, put six inches of manure in the bottom, then five inches of good top soil, then the seed, then an inch of soil to cover. At this time of year, the summer squash has matured in 45 days.

It's a shame that during Summer, when the weather is so good, for quick growth, more green thumbs can't carry through the same enthusiasm developed this Spring. With enough moisture and plant food, plants can amaze you with the rapid growth in warm weather.

(Remember the bamboo I told you about several years back... they grow a foot in a day—a half inch per hour? You can almost see that, and hear it.)

I hope you'll write in soon and report on the Potomac Snap Pole beans. What care you gave them, what the yield was, etc.

Don't let beans mature on the vine. If you want five or six full pickings from the vines, always pick snap beans just before the bean seed starts to fill out. Then you get all the edible flesh, without sapping the plant strength in developing those seeds.

Wait until the dew is off the vines to pick. Handle the vines gently, and in picking the beans, take the pod between thumb and forefinger, twist and pull upward, and back toward the vine at the same time, to snap the stem with minimum disturbance to the vine. If you pull down, and away from the vine, the stem can sometimes hold enough so the vine snaps first.

Also, if you want a lot of squash, pick them while small and tender. If you want squash with more flavor and character, let them size up, accordingly.

SC Peasants Will Present Folk Dance Festival July 4

As part of the three day celebration of Independence Day in San Carlos, the San Carlos Peasants will present an afternoon folk dance festival on Sunday, July 4 at the Recreation Center, Brittan and Cedar Sts., and are planning an evening party at the Central School on Chestnut St.

Jeanne Taylor, well known teacher in the Bay Area, will be in charge of the program. The dancing at the park will be from 1:20 to 5:30 p.m. and at the school from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Gateswingers of the San Francisco YMCA will exhibit squares in the afternoon with callers under the direction of Vera Holleuffer. As an added attraction for all who attend, Jackie Howerton's talented group of juniors, ages from 8 to 10 years, will exhibit variations of the Triple Schottische.

On the evening program Edward Kimel will play the fiddle and Larry Warden will play the piano, providing the live music for the squares.

The San Carlos 4th of July Committee has endeavored to provide every detail to make it convenient for visitors with families to spend an enjoyable day. There will be snack bars, kiddie rides, booths and various concessions.

Officials Promise Relief For Emerald Lake Sewer Setup

BY AL BODI
Emerald Lake Heights residents who have been holding their noses with one hand and signing petitions to county officials with the other Tuesday were promised a measure of relief from their noisome sewage situation.

With the major part of summer still ahead, however, the residents are worrying about how effective the promises will be.

County Engineer M. A. Grant says that things won't be too bad. However, he admits that the final elimination of the sewage disposal problem won't come for about a year, or longer—until the Belmont-San Carlos sewage treatment plant is constructed.

The smelly situation is located up near Lakeview Way. A subdivision of about 125 homes has been created, and to care for its sewage, a sanitary district set up under the direction of the County Board of Supervisors.

Frank Skillman, secretary of the planning commission, said that before the tentative subdivision map of the Wellbanks addition was approved, the subdivision had to make arrangements for sewage disposal. Cesspools are not acceptable.

The problem then went to the county engineer's office. An arrangement was made whereby the sewage from the subdivision would be run down to the Hassler Health Home's sewage line.

Grant says that the Hassler sewer was built with PWA funds. One of the clauses in the PWA contract was that the sewage must be treated before it enters the big sewer. Hassler has its own treatment plant.

To meet this condition, for the subdivision, some sort of treatment plant had to be constructed.

It was built down the hill from Lakeview Way. There is a main tank about 15 by 40 feet. The raw sewage runs into this, is allowed to settle, and the water runs off into a smaller tank. Here it is chlorinated, the odors supposedly removed. The sewage then runs down hill in a sewer to Springdale, then across Cordilleras Rd. where it joins the Hassler sewer. At intervals, there are manholes to allow the gasses to escape.

When Dr. Harold Chope settled down to his new job as county health director, the sewage problem was placed before him in the form of a petition, which had been in the health department since Feb. 15. He made an investigation, various recommendations, and was presented with another petition on June 11.

Signed by 18 persons, it read: "We, the undersigned residents of Emerald Lake Heights district, appeal to the San Mateo County Health Department for immediate help, relief and protection from the obnoxious odors and disease-carrying flies, etc., which have been a health menace for several months caused from the so-called community cesspool or sewage disposal dump in this vicinity. The construction of this kind is improper and should have never been permitted."

NICE DOGGIE — Sandra Reid, 2054 Alma St., San Carlos, gets some training in dog handling from Noel Jones, Burlingame trainer, who has been recruited by the Redwood City Optimist Club for its special program of dog handling. The dog is Baron, a German shepherd.

Optimist Club Provides Dog Training Course Here

Each Wednesday at 4 p.m. Club and was worked out by B. about 40 local children show up at Roosevelt Park to participate in the Redwood City Optimist Club's children's dog training program. The children range between 8 and 16, and the dogs are of all types and varieties. For an hour and a half the children work with their dogs under trained supervision, teaching them to follow on a lead, sit, stay, and other obedience tasks. The program was started here two months ago by the Optimist

IT'S ALL YOURS—That's what Dan D. Robertson (right) is telling Brooke Halsey who succeeds him as president of the Redwood City Rotary Club. Installation was held last night. The theme was western honoring the rodeo here as might be gathered from the costumes.

Halsey Installed By RC Rotary Club

Brooke Halsey, men's clothing store owner, was installed as president of the Redwood City Rotary Club last night. Ceremonies took place during a dinner-dance at the Pioneer Club in Woodside. Halsey succeeds Dan D. Robertson, Atherton building contractor, who was presented with a past president's pin and a leather brief case. Other new officers include Randall Cathcart, vice president; Paul Whaley, secretary; Irving Kesterson, treasurer; Robertson, Russell Cooney, and James R. Hedge, directors. Whaley acted as master of ceremonies. Approximately 65 persons attended. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Allerton of Menlo Park and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. (Ned) Butler. Allerton is president of the Menlo Park Rotary Club.

Brophy Predicts Assessment Rise

City Assessor John J. Brophy said today that he anticipates the assessed value of Redwood City to be approximately $43,000,000 during the 1948-49 fiscal year. This would represent an increase of almost $5,000,000 from the assessed value of the city last year when the figure was $38,479,390. In his first guess this year Brophy had set the figure tentatively at $41,000,000. The increase, he noted, is occasioned by the large amount of construction work carried on during the past year in the city and by annexations to the city. The assessed value of property is used by the city in collecting taxes.

Dibble Center To Open Soon

Menlo Park's newly acquired gymnasium on the Dibble property will be opened next week, according to Melvin Kendall, recreation director. The swimming pool will open in the middle of July or the first of August. The contract for sand blasting, painting and fencing the swimming pool was to be awarded today. Cecil L. Longson, city manager, said. Work will begin immediately. Recreation facilities include two outdoor ball fields, an outdoor basketball court, two tennis courts, horse shoe pits, one four wall handball courts, four one wall handball courts, and a little theater. The theater has been used by the Menlo Park Players Guild since last Winter, Kendall said.

SM Man Named To Health Board

J. W. McClenahan, owner of a San Mateo contracting firm, today was named by County Executive Frederick Peterson to the San Mateo County Health and Welfare Board. McClenahan was named under the terms of the county charter, which states that a sanitary engineer is to be one of the members of the advisory board. Ratification of the appointment by the County Board of Supervisors is necessary.
